

Ph.D. in Education

A DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY IN EDUCATION FROM THE UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, DAVIS

PROGRAM AT A GLANCE

- > Five Program Emphasis Areas
  - > Language, Literacy & Culture
  - > Learning & Mind Sciences
  - > Mathematics Education
  - > School Organization & Educational Policy
  - > Science & Agriculture Education
- > Thirty core faculty members from the School of Education
- > Thirty additional faculty members from across the UC Davis campus

MORE INFORMATION

Visit education.ucdavis.edu/phd or contact the program office at (530) 752-5887 or phdeduadvising@ucdavis.edu.

JOIN A COMMUNITY OF SCHOLARS at the UC Davis School of Education who are committed to transforming the field of education. Our interdisciplinary Graduate Group in Education allows Ph.D. students to draw on mentors and coursework from across the university to shape their unique academic path to a doctoral degree. The program's rigorous standards, nationally and internationally recognized faculty, and emphasis on social justice and equity prepare our graduates to be effective and respected leaders who impact the fields of K-12 education, higher education, business and policy.

---

“The Graduate Group in Education faculty focuses on making sure everyone succeeds not only as students but as researchers. The coursework sets you up to become a strong expert at the national and international levels.”

MATTHEW ZAJIC (PH.D. '18)

Become an educational researcher and answer the big questions in education.

THE GRADUATE GROUP IN EDUCATION

The UC Davis Graduate Group in Education Ph.D. program is an ideal choice for prospective students interested in engaging scholarship, interdisciplinary inquiry and opportunities to produce impactful research.

- > The Graduate Group in Education faculty includes 30 researchers from the School of Education and 30 additional faculty members from campus professional schools and departments.
- > Ph.D. students conduct research at various labs and centers on campus. These include those housed at the School of Education, such as the Center for Community and Citizen Science and Wheelhouse: The Center for Community College Leadership and Research, as well as interdisciplinary campus research centers like the UC Davis MIND Institute and the Center for Poverty Research.
- > The Graduate Group in Education provides strong student support through a variety of funding opportunities. Students can take advantage of graduate fellowships, teaching and research assistantships that may include tuition and fee remissions, and financial aid. Graduate students also receive support for travel to conferences.

---

“If you’re thinking about mentorship, transformative work and location, the UC Davis Graduate Group in Education is the program for you. It has been a life-changing experience connecting with peers who elevate my work.”

VANESSA SEGUNDO, PHD STUDENT

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

- > Graduate Studies Admissions application
- > Minimum 3.0 undergraduate GPA
- > Transcripts from all institutions attended
- > Statement of Purpose and Personal History
- > Three letters of recommendation
- > Writing sample
- > GRE General Test scores
- > Satisfactory TOEFL or IELTS score (International applicants)

APPLICATION DEADLINE

The annual application deadline is December 15.

Visit our website to learn more at education.ucdavis.edu/phd or contact the program office by phone (530) 752-5887 or email phdeduadvising@ucdavis.edu.