

The Graduate Group in Education Research Seminars - Spring 2018

Mondays 12:10-1pm
School of Education Building, Room 174

April 9	Claudia Escobar, Ph.D. Student, School Organization and Educational Policy Examining the Relationship Between Student Perceptions of Their Instructors and Course Performance
April 16	NO SEMINAR
April 23	NO SEMINAR
April 30	Nicole Sparapani, Assistant Professor, School of Education Evaluating Teacher-Student Interactions in a Sample of Children with Autism Spectrum Disorder
May 7	Nidia Bañuelos Ph.D., Postdoctoral Fellow, School of Education Inventing Criminal Justice: Professors, Professionals, and the State in the Creation of New Academic Disciplines
May 14	Cary Trexler, Professor, School of Education Extending the Reach of the SOE Faculty Through International Consulting Opportunities
May 21	Rebecca Ambrose, Professor, School of Education Do Friends Matter When Learning to Advocate for Equity?: Theorizing About the Role of Peer Relationships in Teacher Learning